N. or any other words, letters or figures to indicate that the person using the same is a trained, certified, graduate or registered nurse. Before beginning to practise nursing every such registered nurse shall cause such certificate to be recorded in the county clerk's office of the county of his or her residence with an affidavit of his or her identity as the person to whom the same was so issued and of his or her place of residence within such county. In every year, during the month of January, every registered nurse shall again cause his or her certificate to be recorded in the office of the Regents of The University of the State of New York, with an affidavit of his or her identity as the person to whom the same was issued, and of his or her place of residence at the time of such reregistration. The registrant shall pay to the Regents a fee of one dollar for such reregistration. Nothing contained in this article shall be considered as conferring any authority to practise medicine or to undertake the treatment or cure of disease in violation of article eight of this chapter.

§ 250-a Who may practise as trained attendants. Any person being over the age of nineteen years and of good moral character, holding a certificate from a school for training attendants connected with any institution giving a course of at least nine months including six months' practical experience, and registered by the Regents of The University of the State of New York as maintaining in this and other respects proper standards, all of which shall be determined by the said Regents, and who, after a practical examination, shall have received from said Regents a certificate of his or her qualifications to care for the sick as a trained attendant, shall be styled and known as a trained attendant, and no other person shall assume such title, or use the abbreviation T. A. or any other words, letters or figures to indicate that the person using the same is a trained attendant. Before beginning to practise, every such trained attendant shall cause such certificate to be recorded in the county clerk's office of the county of his or her residence, with an affidavit of his or her identity as the person to whom the same was so issued and of his or her place of residence. In every year during the month of January every trained attendant shall again cause his or her certificate to be recorded in the office of the Regents of The University of the State of New York, with an affidavit of his or her identity as the person to whom the same was issued and of his or her place of residence at the time of such reregistration. The registrants shall pay to the Regents a fee of fifty cents for each such reregistration. Nothing contained in this section shall be considered as conferring any authority to practise nursing as a registered nurse, or to practise medicine or to undertake the treatment or cure of disease in violation of article eight of this chapter.

§ 251 Board of examiners; rules; fees. The board of examiners of nurses appointed pursuant to Laws of 1903, chapter 293, is continued and hereby increased by the addition of two members. The New York State Nurses' Association at each annual meeting shall nominate for examiners two of their members, each of whom shall be a registered nurse and have had not less than five years' experience in their profession. Upon the expiration of the term of office of any examiner now in office the Regents of The University of the State of New York may from the candidates so nominated or from the registered nurses in the State fill the vacancy for a term of five years and until his or her successor is chosen. An unexpired term of an examiner caused by death, resignation or otherwise, shall be filled by the Regents in the same manner as an original appointment is made. Any examiner may be removed by the Regents for misconduct, incapacity or neglect of duty. The Regents may appoint and at pleasure remove a registered nurse as secretary to the said board of examiners who shall not be a member of such board, and such registered nurse inspectors as are necessary for the purposes of this article to be paid from the funds received by the Regents under the provisions of this article at such salaries as they may determine. The said Regents shall make rules for the examination and licensing of registered nurses, and trained attendants applying for certification under this article, and shall charge for examination and for certification and license a fee of ten dollars for nurses and five dollars for trained attendants to meet the actual expenses, and shall report annually their receipts and expenditures under the provisions of this article, to the State Comptroller, and pay the balance of receipts over expenditures to the State Treasurer. The said Regents may revoke any such certificate for sufficient cause after written notice to the holder thereof and hearing thereon.

No person shall thereafter practise as a trained, certified, graduate or registered nurse or a trained attendant under any such revoked certificate.

§ 251-a Examinations; licenses; registration. 1 The Regents shall admit to examination for registration, and shall license to practise nursing as a registered nurse, any candidate who shall pay the fee of ten dollars and submit satisfactory evidence, verified by oath if required, that he or she:

licensed physicians who have personal knowledge of the applicant's qualifications;

5 On receiving from the board of examiners an official report that an applicant has successfully passed the examination, and is recommended for license, the Regents shall issue to him or her a license to practise according to the qualifications of the applicant as hereinbefore provided.

Every license shall be issued by the Regents under seal and shall be signed by the Commissioner of Education of the State of New York and by the secretary to the board of examiners.

Before any license is issued it shall be numbered and properly recorded and its number shall be noted in the license. The Regents may revoke any license for sufficient cause after written notice to the holder thereof and hearing thereon.

Applicants examined and registered by examining boards of other states registered by the Regents as maintaining standards not lower than those provided by this article may without further examination on payment of ten dollars to the Regents and

6 Every licensee to practise as a registered nurse or a trained attendant shall before the licensee begins to practise thereunder, register in the office of the clerk of the county where such practice is to be carried on, in a book kept by the clerk for such purpose, his or her name, residence, place and date of birth, date and number of his or her license and date of such registration, which registration he or she shall be entitled to make only upon exhibiting to the county clerk his or her license, or a duly authenticated copy thereof, and making affidavit stating the above facts and also that he or she is the identical person named in the license and had before receiving the same complied with all the requirements of this article and the rules of the Regents preliminary to the conferment of such license; and that no money other than the fees prescribed by this article was paid directly or indirectly for such license; and that no fraud, misrepresentation or mistake in a material regard was employed or occurred in order that such license should be conferred. The county clerk shall preserve such affidavit in a bound volume and shall issue to every licentiate duly registered and making such affidavit a certificate of registration in his county, which shall include a transcript of the registration. Such transcript and the license may be offered as presumptive evidence in all courts of the facts stated therein. The county clerk's total fee for such registration, affidavit and certificate shall be one dollar.

7 A county clerk having properly issued a certificate of registration to a licensed registered nurse or trained attendant, shall forward a duly attested copy of the same and a copy of the affidavit and evidence upon which said certificate was issued, to the secretary of the board of examiners within thirty days of such initial registration. On or before the first day of May of each year the secretary of the board shall mail to every registered nurse and trained attendant registered in the State of New York a blank application for reregistration, addressing the same in accordance with the post-office address given at the last previous registration. Upon receipt of such application blank which shall contain space for the insertion of his or her name, office and post-office address, date and number of his or her license, and such other information as the Regents deem necessary, and he or she shall sign and swear to the accuracy of the same before a notary public, after which he or she shall forward such sworn statement and application for renewal of his or her registration certificate to the secretary of the board, together with the fee of one dollar for registered nurses and fifty cents for trained attendants. Upon receipt of such application and fee and having verified the accuracy of the same by comparison with the applicant's initial registration statements the secretary of the board shall issue a certificate of registration which shall render the holder thereof a legally qualified registered nurse or trained attendant as the case may be for the ensuing year. These certificates of registration shall all bear date of September first of the year of issue and shall expire on the thirty-first day of August in the year following. On the first day of January of each year or within ten days thereafter, the secretary of the board shall publish and mail to every registered nurse and trained attendant in the State of New York, a printed list of the legally registered nurses and trained attendants within the State. Should any registered nurse or trained attendant continue to practise nursing and care of the sick beyond the first day of January despite the fact that his or her name does not appear in the register, he or she shall be counted as an illegal practitioner and his or her license may be suspended or revoked by the Regents in accordance with the provisions therefor of this article. All nurses already registered in this State at the time of the passage of this act shall make application to the secretary of the board for the reregistration blank upon receipt of which he or she shall in like manner already described make application for reregistration, forwarding to the secretary of the board the reregistration blank properly filled in and accompanied by the fee of one dollar. Said application and fee must reach the secretary on or before the first day of December following the adoption of this statute; failing which the delinquent shall be dealt with as outlined in section 253 and in this section in relation to the suspension or revocation of said license.

§ 252 Waiver of examination for nurses. The Regents of The University of the State of New York may upon the recommendation of said board of examiners, or upon evidence satisfactory to said Regents, waive the examination of any persons possessing the qualifications mentioned in section 250, who shall have been graduated before, or who were in training on the twenty-fourth day of April 1920, and shall thereafter be graduated, and of such persons now engaged in the practice of nursing and who have had three years' experience in the practice of nursing, two of which have been spent in practice in a hospital prior to 1920, an equivalent for such hospital experience, such equivalent to be determined by the State Department of Education and the State Commissioner of Health, who make application in writing for such certificate prior to January 1, 1921.

§ 252-a Waiver of examination for attendants. The Regents of The University of the State of New York may upon evidence satisfactory to said Regents waive the examination of any persons possessing the qualifications mentioned in section 250-a of this article who shall have been graduated on the twenty-fourth day of April 1920, and shall thereafter be graduated, and of such persons now engaged in caring for the sick and who have had at least two years' experience in caring for the sick prior to 1920 and of such persons having less than two years' experience prior to 1920, who shall submit to a practical examination given by the board of examiners to demonstrate his or her fitness to care for the sick as a trained attendant, and who make application in writing for certificate to practise as a trained attendant prior to July 1, 1920. Every such application shall be accompanied by a written certification by three licensed physicians and one registered nurse acquainted with the applicant, of the facts in respect to applicant's experience and qualifications to practise as a trained attendant.

§ 252-b Saving clause. Nothing contained herein shall prevent any person from engaging in nursing, provided, however, that he or she shall not assume the title of trained, certified, graduate or registered nurse or trained attendant, without complying with the provisions of this article.

§ 252-c Nurses in state institutions.

The Regents of The University of the State of New York shall license as trained nurses graduates of training schools for nursing in state institutions, or institutions under the visitation of the State Hospital Commission, registered with the Regents and maintaining a three years' course for such training under such rules as the Regents have prescribed.

§ 252-d Schools for trained attendants.

Any general hospital maintaining a nurse training school registered by the Regents of The University of the State of New York also may, with the approval of the Regents, conduct a school maintaining proper standards for the training of trained attendants, and on application and satisfactory evidence that such proper standards are being maintained, may receive a certificate of registration of such training school for trained attendants.

§ 253 Violations of this article. A person who violates any provisions of this article shall forfeit to the State twenty-five dollars for a first offense, and fifty dollars for each subsequent offense. All fines imposed or forfeiture incurred hereunder may be sued for and collected by the Attorney General and the amounts thereof recovered, or received in any way by any one, shall be paid by the Regents of the University for use and disposition as provided for in section 251 of this article for the fees received from examinations.

§ 254 Advisory council. An advisory council shall be appointed by the Regents of The University of the State of New York. Such advisory council shall consist of three nurses, three physicians and three representatives of incorporated hospitals, and members of each of these three groups shall be appointed for terms of one, two and three years, respectively. Nominations to membership upon this council in twice the number of the vacancies to be filled shall annually be made to the Regents of The University of the State of New York by the New York State Nurses Association and the New York State League of Nursing Education, in agreement between these associations upon the nominees; by the Medical Society of the State of New York, and by the Hospital Conference of New York City or the State Hospital Association, or both. It shall be the duty of the advisory council to organize by the election of a president, vice president and secretary, and to advise the Regents as to courses to be pursued and standards to be maintained in training schools for nurses and for trained attendants, and also as to the rules for the examination of nurses and trained attendants applying for certification, and from time to time to make such recommendations to the Regents as it shall deem proper for the right enforcement of this article. The said council shall meet upon the call of the President of the University or at the request of any five members.

a Pays a fee of $10.

b Submits evidence that she is more than 20 years of age, and of good moral character.

c Meets the preliminary and professional requirements.

d Passes the examination, or meets the requirement of the statute under the waiver.

Preliminary requirement. The preliminary requirement consists in the successful completion of one year of approved work in a secondary school, or the equivalent, prior to the beginning of the professional course.

Training schools registered by the Regents of the University shall require of each applicant for admission credentials showing the successful completion of at least a course of one year in a secondary school or its equivalent 18 counts in Regents examinations at standings of 75 per cent or above. Evidence of such training in the case of each pupil admitted must be filed with the Education Department as a basis for the recognition of such pupil as a member of the training school.

Comity of action in the transfer of students from one professional school to another. The Department does not consider a course in a nurse training school satisfactory within the meaning of the public health law, article 12, Registration of nurses, section 250, if more than two conditions, one major of 100 hours and one minor of 50 hours, are allowed students for promotion from one year's class to the next.

Certificate under the waiver. A candidate who was graduated from a registered nurse training school prior to April 24, 1920, or who was in training on that date, and who later completed a course and received a diploma, or one who is now engaged in the practice of nursing and who has had three years' experience, two of which have been spent in hospital practice

Male nurses will be examined on genito-urinary work as a substitute for obstetric cases. The practical demonstration will be conducted by a member of the board of examiners.

An applicant for examination must be a graduate of a registered training school. The examination includes both a practical demonstration and a written test. The examination includes questions on the following: (1) elementary bacteriology, (2) elementary materia medica, (3) elementary anatomy and physiology, (4) diet cooking, (5) medical nursing including contagious diseases, (6) surgical nursing including gynecology, (7) obstetrical nursing, (8) nursing in children's disease, (9) genito-urinary (for men).

An applicant failing in not more than three topics may take a subsequent examination in the three topics and on passing two of the three may receive a certificate, provided the third subject is passed at 50 per cent or above. An applicant failing in two of the three topics must take the three over.

Practical Examinations

The time and place of the practical examinations will be announced at the examination room Monday morning.

Requirements for Registration of Training Schools for Nurses

In the State of New York a training school for nurses or the institution of which it is a department must be incorporated by the Regents (Laws of 1907, ch. 646). It will be inspected by the Education Department upon receipt of a formal application for registration, which shows that it possesses the minimum requirements.

For registration, a nurses training school must be connected with a hospital (or sanatorium) having not less than 50 beds and a daily average of 30 patients. Each bed must meet the requirements of the State Board of Charities as to air space. The hospital should provide experience in the following departments of nursing: medical, surgical, obstetrical and pediatric. Training schools connected with hospitals not providing adequate opportunities for experience in all the above departments must become affiliated with institutions approved as giving such experience.

Training schools for nurses registered by the Regents shall provide both practical and theoretical instruction in the Following branches of nursing: (1) medical nursing (including materia medica), (2) surgical nursing with operative technique including gynecological, (3) obstetrical nursing (each pupil to have had the care of not less than six cases), (4) nursing of sick children, (5) diet cooking for the sick including (a) 12 lessons in cooking in a good technical school or with a competent diet teacher, (b) food values, and feeding in special cases, to be taught in classes, not by lectures, (6) a thorough course of theoretical instruction in contagious nursing where practical experience is impossible, (7) bacteriology.

Training schools for male nurses shall provide instruction in genito-urinary branches in place of gynecological and obstetrical nursing.

The period of instruction in the training schools must be not less than two full years, during which time students shall not be utilized to care for patients outside of a hospital. Training schools giving a three-year course and wishing to continue the practice of utilizing their pupils to earn money for the hospital may send them out to private cases or for district work among the poor for a period not exceeding three months in the third year of their course. But training schools with a two-year course wishing to continue the practice must extend their course to meet the above requirement [see Education Department Bulletin 670, Course of Study and Syllabus].

Inspection. The Department inspects all registered schools of the State and others on formal application for registration or incorporation.

Training schools for nurses are registered by the Regents on formal application only and a form for this purpose will be mailed on application to the Assistant Commissioner and Director of Professional Education. The professional education requirement and the general preliminary education requirement of the institution must be considered by him fully equivalent to the requirements established by the statute.

Nurse training schools unable to meet the standards required by the Regents for registration in full shall be accredited by the Department for one or more years of professional training as they meet the re-requirements for admission and for professional training required by the Regents standards.

Recognition accorded accredited professional schools. Professional schools registered by the Regents shall give the work of accredited institutions no higher recognition than that accorded such institutions in the Department's accredited list, namely: (1) the successful completion of a four-year course in a professional school accredited by the Department for three years shall be accorded three years' recognition only; (2) the successful completion of a two-year course in a professional school accredited by the Department for two years shall be accorded two years' recognition only; (3) the successful completion of a two-year course in a professional school accredited by the Department for one year shall be accorded one year's recognition only.

A registered school may refuse to accord an accredited institution the recognition given it by the Department but it may not give it any higher recognition. The diploma from a registered school only may be recognized for entering the examinations for registered nurse.

Rules Relating to the Licensing of Trained Attendants

Incorporation. The school for attendants, or the institution of which it is a department, must be located in the State of New York, must be incorporated, and upon receipt of its formal application for registration claiming that it possesses the minimum requirements it will be inspected by a representative of the Education Department.

Facilities for practical experience. For registration a school for attendants must be connected with a hospital, sanatorium or other institution able to provide a bedside experience in the care of men, women and children.

Services which are considered as peculiarly adapted for this experience are found in hospitals for convalescent and chronic patients, sanatoriums for tubercular and nervous patients, infirmaries in orphans' homes, convalescent children's wards and day nurseries.

A general hospital which conducts a registered school for nurses may conduct a registered school for attendants only when situated in the State of New York, and

When it is able to provide adequate clinical material for its student nurses in all required services and has a daily average of not less than 200 patients, excluding dispensary cases.

Schools for attendants will be approved of other institutions upon satisfactory evidence that the number of patients and the general character of the services do not warrant the maintenance of a nurse training school, but do warrant the maintenance of a school for trained attendants and that registered nurses are employed in sufficient numbers to insure the proper nursing of all acute cases and proper supervision of the pupil attendants in training.

Administration. There must be a competent principal of the school who is a licensed registered nurse.

Registered nurses must be in charge of all wards in which attendants are on duty. The number of registered nurses required will depend upon the number of beds in the institution, the type of patients and the facilities for caring for such patients. Under favorable conditions there should not be less than two registered nurses for every ten attendants in training to the end that there may be constant oversight of the attendants in order that the patients may have proper care.

Living conditions. The institution shall provide suitably equipped living quarters for those in training.

Training and instruction. The institution must meet the statutory requirements as to preliminary education and length of course.

Schools for attendants to be registered by the Department must provide service that will insure experience in the care of both adults and children, in the performance of household duties and in the preparation and service of food.

The following types of cases will afford such experience; pupils in training should assist in the care of only such cases: chronic and convalescent medical patients; minor operative and convalescent surgical patients; obstetrical patients, postpartum after third day; normal infants after third day; tubercular patients; convalescent and well children. Attendants may not be placed on special duty.

Hospitals Maintaining both a Nurse Training School and a School for Training Attendants

A general hospital desiring approval for conducting both a registered nurse training school and a school for training attendants must furnish evidence of ability to provide:

a Adequate clinical material for the student nurses in all required services.

b A daily average of 200 patients, exclusive of dispensary cases.

c An assistant to the principal of the training school for nurses, such assistant to be a registered nurse competent to and charged with supervising and carrying on the course of instruction for attendants.

d Separate living quarters for the attendants in training.

e A number of registered nurses, sufficient to direct and supervise the attendants in training, to the end that attendants in training may not be left under the supervision of a pupil nurse in training and thus interfere with the right care of the patients in the ward.

f The uniform distinguishing attendants in training from all nurses in training to the end that there may be no confusion of the services to be performed by the different classes of pupils.
